POSTPONES JAP EXCLUSION

Conference Report Assailed in Both Houses.

NEW LEGISLATION ALLEGED

Provision Directing New Understanding With Japan Attacked as an Abrogation of the Principle That Immigration Is a Purely Domestic Question—Senators Robinson, Johnson and Lodge Join In the Attack.

Washington, May 9.—Members of both houses sharply assailed the conference report on the new immigration bill providing that Japanese exclusion shall not become effective until March 1, 1925, before which time the United States is to negotiate an immigration treaty with Japan.

Protests that the report contained new legislation barred under the rules were made by the solons, who objected to the fact that the report would give Japan a quota like other nations between July 1 next and March 1, 1925.

Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader, held immigration question of great importance, adding that once the United States recognizes the right of Japan to determine by treaty the conditions under which its nationals shall come into this country, "we will be surrounded by similar pleas from other nations."

Senators Borah and Johnson joined in the attack. An assertion by Senator Johnson that the delay in Japanese exclusion until March 1, 1925, would let down the bars during that period to a flood of Asiatic immigration was promptly questioned by Senator Reed (Rep., Pa.), in charge of the measure. "We wanted to make exclusion definite and certain," Senator Reed declared.

The provision directing negotiation of an understanding canceling the "gentlemen's agreement" adopted at the suggestion of President Coolidge was assailed as an abrogation of the principle that immigration is a purely domestic question. Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee told the senate he had not altered the view he so frequently expressed during the league of nations fight, "that immigration is one of the subjects of all others on which no power could have anything to say."

Senator Reed predicted that the conference report would be adopted by both houses. Negotiations will be opened here and in Tokio for a new immigration treaty between the United States and Japan as soon as both the senate and house have formally approved the compromise plan.

Nine months would be allowed under the proposed extension of the effective date for Japanese exclusion to March 1, 1925, for the negotiation of a treaty and its approval by the senate. Both American officials and Japanese diplomats believe the nine months now provided will be sufficient time to work out a treaty, although President Coolidge's original compromise proposal was to extend the effective date for Japanese exclusion to March 1, 1926.

STIR CAUSED AT TRIAL

Witness Declares He Paid Congressman Langley "Good Money."

Covington, Ky., May 9.—In the trial of Congressman John W. Langley and two others on charges of liquor conspiracy, Elias H. Mortimer, under cross-examinatino, declared he paid Langley "good money" so that he could keep on the good side of him and he would appoint a prohibition director that he could handle.

M. E. Huth and Walter B. Carey pleaded guilty in the trial. The pleas were unexpected and caused a sensation in the court. They brought a motion from defense attorneys to strike out much of the previous testimony on the ground that the pleas will alter past rulings. Huth is from Alliance, O., and Carey from Canton. Huth and Carey were freed under $7,500 bond to report for sentence when summoned.

A motion that the jury be dismissed because of alleged inevitable prejudice was overruled when the trial was resumed.

ORDINATION OF WOMEN

Methodist General Conference to Vote on the Proposition.

Springfield, Mass., May 9.—At the Methodist general conference here Rev. Joseph M. Gray of Nebraska presented recommendations of a special commission on licensing and ordaining women, providing for limited ordination of women, subject to regulations applying to men, with certain conditions attached.

Mrs. Mary Leonard Woodruff, Allendale, N. J., moved the recommendations be accepted, but Mrs. S. F. Johnson of Pasadena, Cal., offered an amendment changing the report to include all forms of ordination and embracing foreign fields as well as domestic. A vote is expected today.

Bishop Charles B. Mitchell of St. Paul, Minn., was completely exonerated of charges of being too despotic and arbitrary in the administration of his area.

LODGE SPRINGS PLAN

Offers Substitute for Harding World Court Proposal.

Washington, May 9.—Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee introduced in the senate a substitute for the Harding world court plan. It authorizes President Coolidge to call a world conference at The Hague to organize an international court of justice entirely divorced from the league of nations. The resolution provides that a judge be elected by the electoral commission of each power, that each power shall have one vote and one judge and that the personnel of the court be limited to 16 members representative of the 16 leading powers.

STRIKE TIES UP RUHR MINES

Three Hundred Thousand Out in the District.

SYMPATHY STRIKES FEARED

French Threat to Confiscate Mines Unless Production Is Maintained Menaces Reparations Settlement. Apprehension Expressed In Berlin Governmental Circles and the German Press.

Berlin, May 9.—Reports from the Ruhr district reveal that the strike is effective throughout the entire industrial field. Practically all mines are idle. Although the initiative was taken by the operators, who locked out thousands of men who declined to accept an eight-hour day for underground work, communist miners immediately countered by declaring a general strike in the Ruhr. Miners in Silesia and Saxony are reported considering sympathy strikes.

Deliveries under the "Micum" agreement between French and German industrialists are threatened. The former threaten to confiscate mines unless production is maintained. If new confiscations are made, the reparations settlement manifestly will be badly influenced.

More than 300,000 miners are out. The entire German press is apprehensive that the conflict may react unfavorably against German internal conditions and foreign policy. Fear of disturbances is expressed, it being pointed out that the Ruhr miners are lacking in money and may be driven by hunger to plunder. Labor Minister Brauns left Berlin for the scene in an effort to settle the strike. The Socialist paper, Vorwaerts, charges the operators with trying to hide behind their obligations under the agreement in an effort to gain advantages over the workers.

Officials of the miners' federation state that the demand for a work day of not more than seven hours underground is mild, because a long time is required by most miners to reach their places of work, due to the lack of housing facilities, and that this conditions means in practice a 10 to 12-hour working day.

CELLAR BILL DOOMED

Would Increase the Salaries of Congressmen to $10,000 a Year.

Washington, May 9.—The Cellar bill, increasing congressmen's salaries from $7,500 to $10,000 a yeor, is likely to be defeated in the house, the solons fearing the effect of its passage back home. Under the law no congressman can receive any benefit from a salary increase enacted during any term he was in office. He can help his successors, but not himself. Congress already has voted increases to capitol officers and employes of congressmen. At present every congressman not a chairman of any committee is allowed $3,200 for clerk hire. If the senate agrees, this amount will be increased to $4,000. Congressmen not committee chairmen are limited to two clerks, but they are not required to hire more than one if they see fit. Senators not committee chairmen are allowed four clerks with salaries of $3,300, $1,940, $1,740 and $1,320, respectively, under the proposed law. The measure also provides approximately 5 per cent increases for 490 other capitol employes.

Rail Clerks Seek 1920 Scale.

New York, May 9.—Railroad clerks throughout the country are demanding the wage scale set up by the United States railroad labor board July 1, 1920, and since then reduced by two pay cuts, ordered by the board, be restored. Formal demands already have been presented to a number of different lines in various parts of the country, according to officials here of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, who say presentation of the demands will become general until every road which recognizes the union will have been urged to restore the peak scale.

Dozen Boats Imprisoned.

Duluth, Minn., May 9.—Radio reports say 300 persons are imperiled in the ice on Lake Superior. Ice is piling up about a dozen lake freighters. A gale has been raging and fears are expressed that the imprisoned boats might be crushed unless the storm abates.

Auto Tax Act Held Valid.

Columbus, May 9.—The court of appeals held constitutional that section of the auto tax law which levies upon horsepower and weight of trucks. The decision reverses a ruling by Judge Kinkead of common pleas court made in the actions brought against Secretary of State Brown by the Foltz Grocery and Baking company of Cincinnati and the Fisher Brothers company of Cleveland, to enjoin the collection of taxes under the law. According to the decision of the court of appeals, it is discretionary with the general assembly to classify trucks for taxation purposes according to their horsepower.

Bandits Shoot Cripple.

Steubenville, O., May 9.—William Price, owner of a small store here, was shot by two highwaymen who entered his place. Covering Price with their guns, the robbers demanded his money. "I only took in a few cents today," said Price. Without another word one of the thugs opened fire. Price will recover from a wound through his left shoulder. He lost both legs in a railroad accident several years ago.

New Judge to Preside.

Cincinnati, May 9.—Judge A. M. J. Cochran probably will preside over the hearing of Mal Daugherty's writ of habeas corpus tomorrow, it was announced, following request of Judge Smith Hickenlooper, who stated his appointment was made during Harry M. Daugherty's regime and he wished the court to escape criticism.

Former Chief Pensioned.

Springfield, O., May 9.—Rather than continue a court fight to regain the office of chief of police, R. E. O'Brien, recently deposed when the office was abolished by city council, decided to retire peacefully and was granted a pension. Under a new ordinance the city manager takes over the duties of chief of police.

Buses Hit Electric Line.

Zanesville, O., May 9.—The chamber of commerce is considering the advisability of financing the Southeastern Ohio Railway Electric and Power company, which runs cars from here to Crooksville. The company is considering discontinuing its car service because of lack of business. Buses are blamed.

Freed by Jury.

Youngstown, O., May 9.—Peter and Ironim Sirbu, charged with second degree murder in connection with the killing of Dr. S. E. Conrad, during a dry raid here last November, was found not guilty. Courtroom reports said the jury stood 11 to 1 for acquittal from the first.

Auto Truck Hit by Train.

GIFT TAX NOW IN REVENUE BILL

House Proposal Is Approved by the Senate.

COALITION SCORES AGAIN

Peace Overtures Made to Republican Insurgents by Republican Regulars Who Would Eliminate Democratic Tax Rates From the Revenue Bill. Would Aid In Pressing Farm Relief Legislation.

Washington, May 9.—The gift tax, written into the revenue bill by the house, was approved by the senate.

The gift tax had been rejected by the senate finance committee. With the aid of Republican insurgents, the Democrats have, with this latest victory, made the new revenue bill a Democratic measure. Modified rates, however, were accepted to conform with the schedule for the inheritance tax approved Wednesday, starting at 2 per cent at $25,000 and grading to 36 per cent on gifts over $8,000,000.

Republican regulars in the senate have made peace overtures to the progressives in an effort to save Republican tax rates in the revenue bill. It is said they have promised to act favorably on progressive farm relief legislation if the progressives would vote for a 37 1-2 per cent maximum surtax. Progressives are believed to have refused, feeling that they can pass their farm relief plan without help from the regulars. If some arrangement could be made, it would mean defeat for the Democratic rates now in the tax bill just as they are approaching final adoption. Democrats, however, could stifle the new movement by making some promises to progressives themselves as to how many Democratic votes can be swung to vote for the progressive farm relief program.

Several conferences have been held among progressives and Democratic leaders and such a tacit arrangement is understood to have been discussed. The Democrats owe their tax victory to the seven progressive votes that gave them their slender majority of three votes.

MENTIONS HALLEY AND MANINGTON

Witness Says They Recommended Russell's Appointment.

Washington, May 9.—M. P. Kraffmiller, a former associate of Howard Manington of Columbus testified before the Daugherty committee that Prohibition Director J. E. Russell of Ohio was appointed upon the recommendation of Manington and "Mr. Halley."

Witness declared that Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, David R. Crissinger, federal reserve board governor, and George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to former President Harding, conferred with Manington at "the little green house on K street." Kraffmiller also testified that girls seeking positions frequently went to Manington's house and "some got jobs." For the most part they were women who had been employed at the Marion front porch headquarters, he said.

Fred A. Caskey, former Marietta lawyer, an associate of Manington, has been subpoenaed, it developed, but has refused to testify. Through Miss Mary Yeager, former stenographer, in Harry Daugherty's office, who was employed at Marion during the campaign, the committee learned that Jesse Smith had an office in the department of justice.

A. A. Grorud, former assistant attorney general of Montana, testified that the Republican national committee wanted to "smear" Senator Burton K. Wheeler and Senator Thomas F. Walsh and discredit the investigations they were conducting. Grorud said Blair Coan, who investigated Senator Wheeler in Montana, admitted this, adding that Coan never expected the indictment of Wheeler to "stick."

Cleveland, May 9.—Frank L. Laughrin, 36, of Lakewood, was killed instantly when struck by lightning while running for shelter from a storm at the golf links. Laughrin was playing for the first time this year.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET

State Central Committee May Postpone State Convention.

Columbus, May 9.—The Democratic state central committee will meet here tomorrow to consider postponement of the Democratic state convention, set for May 14, until Aug. 19, after the national convention and the state primaries are over. Call for the committee meeting was issued on the heels of the action of the Republican state central committee in calling for a pre-primary nominating convention to be held May 20. The prmary reason for the proposed postponement of the Democratic convention is the desire on the part of the Democratic leaders to avoid any charge of "hand-picking" candidates for Democratic nominations for state offices. The primaries will be held in August.

American Players Robbed.

Paris, May 9.—Troubles of the American Olympic rugby team, increasing since its arrival here, were aggravated when the squad was relieved of 10,000 francs' worth of jewelry and currency, which was stolen from their clothing in the dressing rooms at the Colombes stadium, while players were on the field practicing.

STRIKE CALLED OFF

Argentine Pensions Act to Be Modified by Government.

Buenos Aires, May 9.—Work has been resumed throughout Argentina, following a week's general strike against the national pensions law, which would pension all workers who have labored continuously in the country for 25 years. The strike was called off in all cities by the National Syndical union after police had acceded to the union's demand to release all persons arrested in connection with the cessation of labor. Employers also generally called off their lockout and the entire nation is returning to normal. President Alvear has virtually promised the labor and employers' organizations that the law will be modified to meet their approval.

Counties Must Settle.

Columbus, May 9.—The first of the suits contemplated against Ohio counties for the collection of costs of caring for unfortunate dependent children was filed in the supreme court by Attorney General Crabbe against Auditor Ralph O. Wead of Greene county. An alternative writ of mandamus was allowed by the court, returnable June 7, by which date the county auditor must answer why the claim of the state board of charities, amounting to $6,740.30 has not been paid, unless a settlement is made prior to that time.

Barrere & Nickerson,

THE AWAKENING OF THE WOMAN

By ETHEL S. M'FARLAND

(©, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

AN ATMOSPHERE of sunshine, flowers and luxurious idleness; a sense of remoteness from the world of men and the laws appertaining thereto; and lurking serpent-wise, in the background, a subtle suggestion of imminent peril. Asquith recognized this as ideal environment for the adventurous spirit, and he whimsically gave thanks to the god of chance.

His companion was young, and in the depths of her heart lay an elusive something which forbade analysis. But a pensive smile curved her scarlet lips, and her eyes were filled with dreamy content, as the bow quivered across the strings of her violin, awaking joyous, lilting melody.

An accidental encounter had paved the way to many subsequent meetings not altogether accidental, the charm of which was augmented by the certainty that, should knowledge of these stolen interviews reach a stern Spanish father, Asquith and life would have little more in common with each other.

During their long hours together, the man from the outside world exerted himself to learn something of the girl's history, and Dolores told him of her nobly-born mother, who had sacrificed home and kindred to marry for love; of her death after a brief year of happiness, and of the stricken husband, who had shut himself away from the world with his grief, seeking solace in arduous study and literary labor.

Intuitively, Asquith comprehended how desolate had been the life of the girl thus left to the sole companionship of books and music. Of necessity, her keen intellect had been nurtured to the point of satiety, decided Asquith, who did not entirely approve of the higher education for women. With deepening displeasure he learned that Dolores was destined to the career of a professional musician at such time as her education should be completed.

"But, surely, you are already mistress of your art," he cried.

"Would that Senor Martinez could hear you! A musician is never done learning; always before him is the ideal unattained. In one sense, however, you are not wrong. Of technical knowledge I have a fair measure; but Senor Martinez is ever dissatisfied. He says I have no soul; that so long have I wandered by the sea I am as a veritable Undine, and only suffering will enable me to understand, and so become an artist. And while Senor Martinez is otherwise kindly, I am assured that he would rejoice greatly should calamity come to me. To him, music is dearer than life itself."

"Who is he, this all-powerful senor?" demanded Asquith, with suddenly aroused jealousy.

"He is my master. He has had charge of my education since my hand was strong enough to hold a bow. Also, he is my father's only friend, and the man I am some time to marry."

"Sacrifice your gifts, your glorious beauty, to further the ambitious schemes of a thing of wood, a mere machine for the making of music? Never!"

With an incoherent murmur of love and jealousy, Asquith caught the yielding figure close, and a cloud of dusky curls fell across his breast.

* * * * * * *

Blue sky above, and below the illimitable. Hungry sea. A summer idyl, whispered words, and the memory of a kiss. Slight things these, but old as the tale that is told.

In Asquith's hand was a telegram, and in his heart was bounding the restless desire to be off and away, mingling once more with his kind.

He found Dolores in her favorite haunt, her violin cradled in her arms.

Always it is foolish to postpone the inevitable. Asquith knew this, so he boldly attacked the task before him.

"Little comrade, they have been very sweet, and I shall never forget them—the long hours by the sea, with the music—and you. But the world is calling me, and I must return to my place in it. Dolores, I have come to say good-by."

"Farewell, senor." The words were uttered mechanically, the pretty Spanish accent a trifle more pronounced than usual.

Her eyes followed the tall figure until it vanished in the distance. Then, with a low cry, she buried her face in the sands.

Long hours she lay in tearless silence. When at last, she arose, her trembling fingers instinctively sought her beloved violin, hitherto the sprightly companion of joyous moments, now sole confidant of a never-ceasing sorrow.

To the open window of Senor Martinez the vagrant breezes bore an echo of distant music—melody which wailed and sobbed with its weight of human anguish.

His lips parted in the shadowy semblance of a smile. For he knew that in his pupil the woman was awake and crying, and the great artist was born.

Blast by Electricity.

South African gold mines are experimenting with blasting by electricity with a view to minimizing the fine dust, which is thought to be the chief cause of miners' phthisis.

Eskimo Music

Eskimo music consists chiefly of songs, chants and melodies. Many of these possess considerable musical rhythm. Although the tunes to which they are sung are crude they can be traced to keynotes. The melodies especially are said to be very pleasing and a number of them have been published with corresponding music.

Tradition Helps Nation

In the great events menacing the existence of a people, the will of the dead powerfully sustains the will of the living. Nations which have not enough of the dead to defend them, make a feeble resistance. This was the case with Russia toward the end of the great war.—G. Le Bon in Les Incertitudes de l'Heure Presente.

HERRICK REFRIGERATORS

The Big Difference In Refrigerators

The main object of any refrigerator, of course, is the preservation of foods. The refrigerator that will keep foods in perfect condition longest is naturally the refrigerator you want—provided it dosen't increase your ice bills.

The Herrick answers those requirements with facts—not claims. And it does even more. It actually decreases your ice bills while giving you more effective food preservation.

And why? Simyly because the Herrick is far more than an ice box—far more than a cold storage place. It is built on the scientifically demonstrated principle that more than merely cold air is necessary to keep foods in good condition for any great length of time.

Perhaps the biggest essentials to scientifically correct refrigeration are—

No. 1. Circulation of cold dry air.
No. 2. Effective Insulation.
No. 3. Air-tight construction.

That the Herrick has these necessary essentials is a demonstrated fact.

Many proofs of the truth are visible even to the least informed purchaser. Others are hidden within the walls of the refrigerator, but nevertheless there, performing their functions so important to good health and economy.

Humorous Comment.

Willie had accompanied his mother to a church sociable at which ice cream was served. The following Sunday his brother had served ice cream at the noonday meal, and there being a small quantity left, had apportioned it to the members of the family at supper. On receiving his portion Willie looked at his plate critically, then said: "Mamma, this looks like a sociable dish of ice cream."

Just as Egyptians Did.

The best-known method of flooring is known as "tongued," and the Egyptians knew how to do that, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. Both edges are grooved and a flat dowel, made as a separate piece, fits in both grooves and serves as the tongue.

Unique Belgian Sport.

Sand-boat racing is a sport enjoyed by Belgians and visitors along the sand dunes of La Panne. The boats are so named because they are sailed on the shore. A small frame is spread on four wheels and on the cross bars of the frame is set a good sized mast and sail. This wheeled craft is guided by a rope, as boys steer a bob sledge or a small wheel. In a good breeze the boats make 15 to 20 miles an hour. The sand sailor can tack or turn his craft around just as easily as if he were sailing on water.

JULIUS WEILL

At the dinner today given at the family home in honor of the ninety-sixth birthday anniversary of Julius Weill, covers were laid for Simon Weil, Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Weil, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Weil, of Lexington, Kentucky; Mrs. Hannah Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weill and daughter, Miss Mildred, of Columbus; Miss Bertha Weill, Harry E. Weill, Mrs. Emma Joseph, Misses Fannie and Helen Joseph and Samuel Joseph, of this city.

Few people in this day and age live to celebrate a birthday anniversary crowding the century mark. If they do, they are often so old and feeble that they do not realize that they have lived nearly a century. With this venerable man it has been his pleasure so far to be active and still full of the vigor of life, and he enjoys having his children, sons-in-law and daughter-in-law and nephews gather at the family home to celebrate an anniversary that is not often allotted to the ordinary human being.

Mr. Weill was born in France, in the province of Alsace-Lorraine and is the last of his immediate family. He attributes his health and longevity to an abstemious and regular way of living. Mr. Weill retires early and is up with the sun. He attends to all his own business affairs personally, collects his rentals and makes repairs to the property that he owns.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Exceptions Overruled.

A hearing was had Thursday before Probate Judge J. W. Adkins in the matter of exception filed by the board of education of Pickaway township to item 30 in the account of George Steely, executor of the estate of Nelson Hitler, deceased.

Item number 30 was an allowance of $30,000 to Judge I. N. Abernethy and Charles H. May, of this city, and Charles J. Pretzman, of Columbus, for services as attorneys in defense of the validity of the will of Nelson Hitler. Upon the hearing Judge Adkins overruled the exceptions and confirmed the account.

The attorneys who testified were E. N. Huggins and Smith Bennett, of Columbus; John P. Phillips, of Chillicothe; John Logan, of Washington C. H.; Judge Charles Dresbach, Judge E. A. Brown, Barton Walters, I. F. Snyder, Charles Gerhardt, H. B. Weaver and C. A. Weldon.

Some of the attorneys testified that they thought that the attorneys in the case should have charged from fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars and the majorty of the attorneys present said that they thought that the amount asked was very reasonable, considering the size of the estate and the time the attorneys spent defending the case.

DISABLED VETERANS

Pickaway County Chapter American Red Cross Trusted Friend.

Time for Filing Claims Has Been Extended and Ex-Service Men Are Urged to Take Advantage of the Opportunity—Work Covers Wide Field.

That Pickaway county chapter, American Red Cross, has a continued obligation to the disabled ex-service man, was the keynote of the May session of the executive committee held in room 17, Masonic Temple.

Some of the most pressing problems were discussed and the consensus of opinion was that the chapter should exhaust every proper effort to secure an award if the evidence justified and continue the effort until no further evidence is possible of submission to the government.

During the month of April 65 cases came under observation. A rerating of $25 per month was obtained in one case, hospitalization in three cases and dependency in one.

The time limit for filing claims has been extended and disabled men are urged to take advantage of the opportunity. These suggestions should be observed.

Don't fail to answer at once, or have the secretary answer every letter sent you by the bureau.

Don't fail to report on the appointed day, for every physical examination ordered by the bureau.

Don't fail to inquire immediately. If your compensation should be cut, whether it was cut on account of improved physical condition or because of failure to cooperate.

The secretary, home service is always ready and willing to aid you.

The work of Pickaway county chapter covers a wide field. Recently a field director of the Red Cross in California, wrote the secretary that a boy from Pickaway county, who had enlisted in the Regular army, was to be released because of some technicality and would be thrown penniless upon the world, miles from home. The secretary immediately brought the matter to the attention of relatives of the boy and also got into communication with the recruiting station, where the boy enlisted.

This is only one of the many cases where the men turn to the friend, who is tested day by day. A friend they have learned to trust—The American Red Cross. What Pickaway county will do for them in 1924 will say much.

OLD RESIDENTS

Number Are in Ninety Class and Two Nearing Century Mark.

Julius Weill, who celebrates his 96th birthday anniversary today was supposed to be the oldest resident in the county, but there is another, Daniel Dumm, who has him beat one notch in the years of time. The latter will be 97 the 23d of August. Among other citizens who are in the ninety class are Mrs. John G. Palm, of East High street, H. R. Heffner and Miss Elizabeth L. Sweetman, Lorenz Ebert, who will pass the ninety mark August 28, of this year; Jacob Hixenbaugh and James Ferrell who resides at Nash. Mr. Ferrell is also a wonderfully preserved man, Altho he is crippled up some, his mind is alert.

This paper recently published a list of forty people in this city, who had passed the four score mark. Circleville is just about as healthy a place to live in as there is in the state. The only sad part of the drab age is, that your old friends pass out and leave you alone to battle with the world.

The baccalaureate sermon for the senior class of the New Holland high school will be delivered at the Church of Christ Sunday, May 11, by the Rev. S. C. Elsea.

JOHNSON HAS HEARD.

Hiram W. Johnson has heard from Indiana. After the Ohio primaries, when asked for a statement, he said he would await the Indiana referendum before announcing his plans for the future. There is no reason why he should withhold his secret longer. Indiana Republicans repudiated him by 250,000. Those of his own state, California, also on the same day spoke decidedly against him.

It is not necessary that the California senator should say much to public about his plans. They have been disclosed by him since his return to his senatorial work. He has aligned himself with the Republican insurgents and other radicals on a policy of non-conformity to party policies. They are voting with the Democrats to defeat administration measures. They are participating in a conspiracy to prolong already exhausted investigations and to oppose the legislative policies of the administration for the sole purpose of annoying the president and to embarrass him.

Senator Johnson has taken his stand with the malcontents. Indiana Republicans have told him what they think about it. He has heard, also, from "back home." There is no possible way by which he and his co-conspirators can prevent the nomination of Calvin Cooldige in the Republican convention. They may be able to injection a third party and affect the Coolidge prospects for election, but there is no Roosevelt this year to lead them. The noisy insurgents, senators and representatives, have not been able to keep their own states from sending Coolidge delegates to Cleveland, with the exception of Wisconsin and South Dakota and Coolidge has one district delegate from Wisconsin.

It must be said of the president that he is not catering to these insurgents.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

World's Smallest Violin.

Perfect in every detail, and so small it will lie within a space covered by two half crowns laid side by side, London now boasts of having the smallest fiddle in the world. It was made by the well-know violinist, B. Vandermeulen, and is exquisitely constructed as to scale. The exact measurements are: Violin body, 1 11-16 inches; violin, over all, 2⅝ inches; bow, 3 9-16 inches.—Philadelphia Record.

AMUSEMENTS

Murmurs of surprise and whispers of delight hailed "The Uninvited Guest" the Metro picture which opened at the Met theater yesterday. It is a J. E. Williamson presentation produced with undersea scenes by the Submarine Film Corporation with natural color photography by the Technicolor process and directed by Ralph Ince.

As the plot of the story written by Curtis Benton, progressed on the screen, the audience held its breath at the thrilling rescues and realistic undersea scenes that make this production decidedly unusual. A gripping love story which starts in New York, goes thru a shipwreck on the sea route to San Francisco, lingers in the beauty and glamor of the South Sea Isles and winds up in the Westchester estate of a millionaire, would be enough to class "The Uninvited Guest" is an exceptional picture.

When the beauty of Jean Tolley, and the villainy of William Bailey and Louis Wolheim; the trickery of Mary MacLaren and the bravery of Maurice "Lefty" Flynn, in perfect portrayals of colorful roles are added to the story, it becomes very exceptional.

"The Uninvited Guest" is the first picture to show undersea scenes in natural colors. It is one of the most beautiful and thrilling productions of the year and should not be missed.

Scientists Say Roasting Puts the "Kick" in Coffee

German and Swiss scientists who have been investigating the effect of coffee, tea and cocoa on the human system have reached the conclusion that coffee and cocoa are stimulating chiefly because of the chemical changes brought about by roasting. Experiments were made upon both men and dogs to discover the effects of the three drinks which are commonly used throughout the civilized world. These showed that tea was less exhilarating than coffee and cocoa.

Coffee from which the caffeine had been extracted also was tested, and men who had used this beverage without knowing the change made in it underwent the same stimulation enjoyed by those drinking ordinary coffee. They did not, however, have the increase in blood pressure which came to those who drank coffee from which the caffeine had not been extracted.

It was the conclusion of the investigators that the roasting of coffee and cocoa change them in such a manner that when used in drinks they cause a secretion of acidity in the stomach which has a refreshing effect and increases the power for mental effort.

Edward Leach, former grand exalted ruler of the Elks, died in New York, following an operation.

Ancient Books Show Surgery an Old Art

The practice of surgery goes back as far as the time when man first began to hurt himself or to be hurt by others. Medicine and surgery were flourishing in the Orient some four centuries B. C. Accounts in ancient books tell of more than a hundred instruments of steel, 14 varieties of bandages, splints made of bamboo, the sewing of cuts on the head and face; and there was even an operation for remaking the nose by using a piece of skin of the cheek for that purpose. So it would seem that the Hindu had a more thorough acquaintance with the science than one looking back over the faraway centuries would at first suspect.

The figures of patients undergoing operations are carved on Egyptian monuments and among the antiquities of that people are such instruments as lancets, probes, knives and forceps. In passing it may be remarked that the latest centuries need not take credit to themselves for the invention of artificial teeth, for that triumph of the dentists' art has been found in mummies.

The surgical skill of the Orient seems to have been bottled up for a time, or, at least it was in no hurry to cross over to Europe, where for a long period the barber was the usual surgeon. The lives of two of England's greatest kings might have been saved for longer usefulness had a little wisdom been shown in their treatment. Henry V died of a malady which could have been cured by the knife; Richard the Lion Hearted met his death from a wound in the shoulder caused by an arrow which an ignorant surgeon aggravated by twisting about in his efforts to remove, thus inducing blood poison.

New Fishing Opportunities.

The fact that good fish range down to 1,600 feet opens up hundreds of thousands of square miles of new fishing grounds, especially off the British western coasts, off Iceland, and off Newfoundland. With improved nets and tackle fishing will in the future be carried on in far deeper water than

Make Today Count as No Previous One Ever Did

Make this resolution every morning: I will play the life game today as I have never played it before. I will play it with more energy, more determination. I will play it with firmer decision, with better judgment. But while I will try not to make so many mistakes, I will not be so cautious as not to act at all, for I know that he who hesitates in irresolution or wavers is lost. I am going to make myself felt today as never before. I am going to fling my life into my work with all the energy I can master. I am resolved not to grope along in a picayune way any more. I am going to put some more dare into my efforts. I am going to take more chances because I know that people with vigorous initiative can afford to make more mistakes than the hesitators, the waverers, the balancers. I am going to make this day count as no previous day of my life has counted.—Inspiration.

BOY BUILDERS

Camp Roosevelt, Near Laporte, Indiana, Offers Exceptional Advantages.

Sometime next June, a future president of the United States will say "good-bye" to his teacher and start on a two months' holiday. He may not be an embryo president. He may be a governor or a mayor; a senator or a congressman; or a successful business man, in the making. But whatever his future, it is well to ask, "What is that two months' vacation going to do to him; is it going to help or hinder in his progress?"

During the past few years the summer camp for boys has developed. From coast to coast, the country is now dotted with boys' camps—places where boys get lots of fun but where they are guided and controlled. Not long since the boys' camp was available only to the sons of wealthy parents. Today there is a strong movement on foot to make the summer camp available to those of lesser means.

Camp Roosevelt, near Laporte, Indiana, is an instance. This camp is conducted by the Chicago Board of Education, but boys from anywhere are welcome.

The war department of the United States government has loaned complete camping equipment. United States army officers assist in training. The Red Cross maintains a hospital. The Y. M. C. A. operates a Y hut and assists in the athletic program. And because the plan meets with the approval of the big minded, philanthrophic men who help, the cost to boys is so small that there are few who cannot afford to go.—The Informant.

INFLUENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Eloquent Tribute of Bishop Quayle to One He Never Knew.

Mothers Are So Beautiful and Not Enough to Go Around Those Who Have Them Dwelling Here Are Radiantly Blessed.

My mother is not a memory. She is a dream. Before I knew her she had slipped away to her home with God. This is not to think she has been without prevading influence in my life.

She is a perfume very precious.

Coveting is not well spoken of in the commandments, but there is no inhibition on coveting a mother. The heart wants a mother so. Without her there is such an unmeasured lack. I have in Christian spirit coveted mothers unnumbered times. I suppose God will forgive a lonely boy for so doing, and a lonely man. All these years, whenever my eyes have seen a mother caressing her son, my heart has wanted her. May I be forgiven, if I need it.

Mothers are so beautiful, and there are not enough to go around.

As a wee lad I, who had been told that my mother was out above clouds and sun and back of all the stars, learned to love the blue sky and the clouds driven by the winds lying on my back looking whither my mother had gone. My mother taught me the beauty of sky and cloud. I did not then know that Jesus had a cloud take him into its hiding. A lonesome, little motherless boy wanting his mother who had left him, but had not forgotten him, had his tutelage in love of nature by one "enskied and sainted." Thus has she ever beckoned, beckoned. I have seen her hand waving me upward all these golden years.

She was born in the Isle of Man, and took wing to God's bosom from a Rocky Mountain nine thousand feet in the sky. And I think this may represent her aspiration of life. She died young, but she had lived long years measured by her climb of soul.

My father was a gold miner and dwelt much beneath the ground by the compulsion of his craft, and I, motherless, was left much alone, and, children being scarce in that early mining community, was taught by the miners to drink in the saloons as early as I was taught to pray by my father who loved God. He, hearing this, left the mine long enough to track with me in his covered wagon back to Kansas that I might have immunity from the saloon-breath. Then back he went in his odyssey of sorrow and left me fatherless and motherless. He did the best he could. Lone miner men cannot mother their children, nor father them, either.

So God became my mother, as he has needed to do for many orphan boys and girls. My mother, who dwelt with God, never, I think, took her hand from my heart. Those who think a mother who dies when her child is but a babe becomes a shadow may let this orphan tell them better. I have missed and missed this sweet mother face thru the years and anticipate meeting her as one of the felicities of heaven.

Let such as have mothers dwelling here make much of them. Such are radiantly blessed. The shining eyes lit brighter than shining stars, the audible teaching of the child to pray the taking by the hand and leading to the house of God, the wild dreams of her child's future, the long years of prayer that never forget—these are what a mother is, and the failure to have one in sight is a sorrow beyond that of Niobe.

Howbeit, tho bereft of a mother, a child is not quite bereft nor alone since God will be a Father to the fatherless. Who watches over sparrows will not leave babes to die of loneliness.

So still I wait and watch for my first conscious glimpse of my mother's face, blessing God meanwhile for the tales told me of her love to God and her faith that he would not leave her little boy quite alone, but would ultimately guide him to glory.

Some time father and mother and son will have meeting and greeting in heaven—and God shall be there!

For the preciousness of such a mother my soul will evermore bless God.—Bishop William A. Quayle in Western Christian Advocate.
